

Dr Latika Cilly

MBBS DGO MRCOG FRANZCOG

Obstetrician and Gynaecologist

Dr Latika Cilly is an Obstetrician and Gynaecologist practicing in Melton, Sunbury, Point Cook and Werribee.

Latika's areas of interest are high risk obstetrics and minimal invasive surgery and she also specialises in management of heavy period bleeding, abnormal PAP smears, colposcopy and prolapse. Having had extensive experience in diagnosis and management of a variety of women's health issues across all age groups, Latika is well equipped with providing a range of treatment options for problems such as PCOS, contraception, sub-fertility and menopause to name a few. Latika has had the opportunity to work across continents such as Asia, UK and Australia and has seen varied pathology in these geographies.

Latika believes in providing patient-focused specialist care in women's health. She took up obstetrics as a career choice because of the happiness and joy it brings to a family. Latika had the good luck to experience this first hand multiple times with each baby that is born under her care.

Being a woman herself Latika feels she can empathise with her patients and provide them with more holistic and efficient treatment. For the major part of her career, she have worked in the western suburbs and understands very well the requirements of the population sub-group in these areas. Her aim is always to provide her patients with the best care. She ensures immediate feedback to the referring doctor so there are no long wait times/multiple follow up calls to receive the consultation outcome.
