

Mr Brett Knowles

Bsc, MBChB, FRACS, dip anatomy

General Surgeon

Mr Brett Knowles works at St Vincent's Private Hospital Werribee.

Mr Knowles is a Specialist Hepatobiliary and upper GI surgeon and has been consulting in Werribee since 2011. His area of expertise is in the management of benign and malignant disorders of the liver, pancreas, and biliary tree. Brett has an interest in hernia surgery including complex ventral herniae and benign gastric conditions such as reflux. He also specialises in upper gastrointestinal endoscopy, ERCP and advanced minimally invasive surgery.

Brett is actively involved in clinical research and is the unit intern supervisor at Royal Melbourne hospital. He sits on hepatobiliary tumour stream committees including a working group for a state wide pancreatic cancer registry. As part of the HPB group at the Melbourne Surgical Group we aim to provide comprehensive and expert management of any liver, biliary or pancreatic pathologies.

Subspecialty interests include:

- Gall bladder, liver and pancreas
- ERCP
- Hernia
- Laparoscopic surgery including hiatal and adrenal
